In Loving Memory...

Shamsuddin Noman bhai Khambati
29th March 1942 - 6th July 2020

Life is but a stopping place....

Life is but a stopping place,
A pause in what's to be,
A resting place along the road,
to sweet eternity.

We all have different journeys,
Different paths along the way.
We all were meant to learn some things,
but never meant to stay....

Our destination is a place,
Far greater than we know.

Fondly remembered by Anisa, Nazir & family, Monir & family.

Dear Khambatis,

With Dua and Raza Mubarak of Syedna Aliqadr Muffadal Saifuddin Saheb TUS, The trustees of Anjuman-E-Abdullah (Khambat) are pleased to extend the invite to you and your family members for majlis of Panjatan Pak (AS) and Janab-e-Abbas Alamdar (AS) on mehram raat of Urs Mubarak of Kaka Akela Saheb and Kaki Akela Saheba. On 13th Safar 1442 H i.e on Wednesday 30th September 2020 at 9 pm onwards on digital media via zoom.

The link details shall be provided on broadcast group later on.

The program this year is as follows:

- 1. Majlis*
- 2. Awarding students for excelling in Xth standard.*
- 4. Niyaaz*
- 5. Donation*

We regret the sad demise of Shamsuddinbhai Nomanbhai Khambati Of the 90 plus years of Anjuman's history, Shamsbhai was associated with Anjuman for about 40 years; 20 years as the Secretary, & about 10 years as the President, both of which he handled splendidly. He was a humble man possessing strong leadership qualities. He would consult the other members on every decision and never imposed his views on others. Unity and Anjuman's interest were always close to his heart. He took keen interest in all the matters of Anjuman. His strong public relations connected Anjuman with all the Khambatis. He always encouraged younger people to join in.

Khuda Marhum ne Jannat ma aala darja ma vasave ane
PanjatanPak (A.S) - Aimmat (A.S.) - Doat (R.A.)

*Our condolence to his family members and May GOD

The price of wealth is life itself

POWER OF YOUR BELIEF

The power of belief is an amazing thing, it has helped people accomplish some of the most incredible feats in history. Feats that no one thought were possible, until someone with incredible belief showed it was possible.

I am going to share with you one such story of an incredible young man who had tremendous belief in himself.

The Sydney to Melbourne race snakes across Australia's beautiful south east corner covering a distance of almost 550 miles.

It's considered a real man killer even by seasoned ultra-runners who are used to racing across the hottest deserts and the coldest most barren terrains on the planet.

In 1983 Cliff Young decided to enter the inaugural event.

Cliff was not your average athlete. As a cowhand, Cliff was responsible for rounding up cattle after violent thunderstorms.

He knew he had high levels of stamina, but this was another matter altogether because most of the entrants were super fit runners in their prime.

Cliff was 61years old with little competitive experience.

However, the one thing Cliff possessed was a burning belief that he could, and would, complete the race. He didn't have any self-limiting beliefs.

There were calls for him to be banned for his own safety, but whereas the rules excluded runners that were too young, nobody could see anything discriminating against people being too old. So the organizers reluctantly allowed Cliff to run.

It was a hot day in Sydney when Cliff turned up wearing overalls and galoshes over his work boots inviting howls of derision from some of the 150 competitors and growing interest from the press and spectators.

The race started and, to nobody's surprise the farmhand was soon lagging behind the seasoned runners.

He had a very strange way of running that meant he barely lifted his feet off the ground and moved forward looking more like a cross-country skier than a marathon runner.

Half way through the first night Cliff rather remarkably took the lead.

Rather than stopping for the traditional sleep break that most ultra-runners took part in, Cliff took a fraction of the time the others took and just kept going eating pears straight out of a tin as he ran to give him energy.

By the following morning, much to the amazement of everybody, Cliff had built up a substantial lead.

It was an impressive performance but the old-timer was inevitably going to relinquish his lead when he needed to stop for a proper break himself. Only he never needed to do so.

He was driven by the belief that he could rest for as long as he wanted once the race was over.

Nobody had told Cliff he was supposed to stop for 6-hours every evening, so he just kept on running and running and running.

Cliff did the unexpected in finishing the race.

But he did the truly remarkable in not just winning it, but amassing a staggering ten-hour winning margin. Cliff Young decided what was possible for him and he set his own beliefs about what he could achieve.

A 61-year-old amateur rewrote the book on distance running.

Suddenly others realized what was possible and started to believe that if Cliff could do it, so could they.

They didn't suddenly increase their stamina overnight, but they did increase their belief in what was possible.

No athlete has ever won the Sydney to Melbourne race since then taking regular sleep breaks.

What is the takeaway from Cliff Young story?

The most powerful thing in the world is not a weapon. Its the persistent belief that is so deeply engrained in our subconscious mind that it propels every decision we take in life. People possessed by such intense beliefs have the capability to change the world, for the better or worse. Because the stronger their belief and subsequent action is, the more the chances are for others to become affected by it and start believing in it.

And how do we build the power of belief - is by taking a leap of faith and doing things one step at a time. Some people are born believers, they don't need to do things in a small way to believe they can, they already know they can do it.

To others, we can help build this belief in themselves by constantly motivating them and encouraging them and not by doubting their abilities. Eg.: When a child is trying to climb a window or a trapeze, parents shout from behind saying don't do it you will fall, be careful. This constant reminder to the child that he might fall, impacts his own self belief in a big way. It gets implanted in his subconscious mind and effects his later actions in life.

So we always have to be encouraging instead of acting as breakers.

The Power of Belief has its limits if it is not supported by appropriate SKILLS. Do things one step at a time. Accomplish a task and then move to the next. When you are able to perform a task you feel good this motivates you, increases your self belief and helps you take the required action, which results in positive outcome. The more you do, the more skill you acquire. The more skill you acquire, the more capable you become. The more capable you become the stronger that belief becomes.

And with a strong you, come what pandemic in your life, you will be able to fight it out as you have that BELIEF!!

KITCHEN TALES

For crispy fries or chips, slice the potato, then remove the starch by soaking in water for one hour before baking.

Prevent cut vegetables from oxidizing and turning brown by storing them in cold water and cook immediately.

Disinfect wood cutting boards by hand washing with vinegar.

For making softer idli's, add some sago or cooked rice while making the batter.

While preparing green chutney(mint and coriander), add a pinch of turmeric powder and lemon juice to retain the bright green color.

Moisturize dried coconut by adding a sprinkle of milk and letting it sit for 10mts.

To make paneer softer– dip them in warm salt water before adding it to the gravy.

To ensure pickles last longer, always use a clean, dry spoon, or better still, heat the spoon over a flame before using it to dip into the bottle.

When boiling potatoes or eggs, add a pinch of salt to the water. This will help peel the skin easily later.

If your recipe calls for buttermilk, you can use regular milk with lemon juice.

Freeze leftover tomato paste in small ice cube container.

Store fresh herbs in a glass of water in your refrigerator.

Easily slice big-leaved herbs like basil and sage by stacking, rolling and then slicing across into ribbons.

Did you know – Avocado has highest protein content of all the fruit.

Did you know – Broccoli contains twice the vitamin C of an orange.

Did you know – Egg yolks naturally contain Vitamin D.

Did you know – The Indian Rajma is originally a staple of Mexico.

Did you know – Ginger can reduce exercise-induced muscle pain by 25%.

10 HERBS THAT HEAL

Coughing – Add ROSEMARY

The eucalyptol in this aromatic herb is study proven to loosen chest congestion, making phlegm easier to expel. Also rosemary is rich on anti-inflammatory tannins, which soothes a sore throat.

Crampy tummy – Add MINT

Peppermint contains menthol, a natural plant compound that relaxes pain-inducing intestinal spasms. This reduces belly discomfort by 40% according to German research.

Menstrual cramps – Add OREGANO

Enjoying 2 tsp of fresh Oregano daily during menstruation reduces or eliminates cramps, according to greek study. That's because this herb's thymol and carvacrol relax uterine muscles to prevent painful contractions.

Achy Joints – Add CURRY POWDER

The curcumin in curry inhibits the body's production of prostaglandin E2, an inflammatory compound that over sensitizes nerves. This blunts joint and muscle pain as effectively as prescription medications.

Bloated – Add PARSLEY (Ajwain leaves)

Thanks to its stores of apiol and myristicin, parsley is a natural diuretic that relieves bloat-inducing water retention by preventing salt from being reabsorbed into bodily tissue.

Congested – Add CAYENNE (lalmirchi)

The fiery capsaicin in cayenne deactivates substance P, a neurotransmitter linked to inflammation. The result – less sinus congestion and pressure.

Feeling down – Add BASIL (Tulsi)

The eugenol and rosmarinic acid in basil boost the brain's production of dopamine and serotonin. According to Indian researchers, this could lead to sunnier moods in as little as three days.

Always tired – Add CILANTRO (Dhaniya / Kotmir leaves)

The carboxylic acid in cilantro binds to heavy metals such as mercury in the blood and carries them out of the body. Their removal reverses the toxin buildup that causes chronic fatigue, joint pain and depression.
